

CIB and other leave campaigns – a statement by our Chairman

Following the publication of a front-page story in the Express over the weekend, I would like to restate our position to clarify any confusion.

We are happy to work with anyone to secure a 'Leave' vote, and welcome the support of all groups – but the Campaigning for an Independent Britain has not merged into or endorsed any single group to become the official 'Leave' campaign in this referendum.

Our organisation was founded to achieve the goal of leaving the European Union. We are thankful that many millions of people throughout the country share this objective and will continue to seek to work with other like-minded people and groups to achieve this noble end.
