

Exclusive: Starmer's latest attack on sovereignty faces MP's shock voting tactic to block him

In 'Two-Tier' defence of sovereignty, public who've had enough join in with mass lobbying of MPs

PLUS, Kemi's Tories now under microscope in tough decision on how to whip her troops

MP, party leader, and barrister joins with Stand for Our Sovereignty in fight to win over MPs

At any time in the coming hours and days, the Speaker of the Commons will rise and read out a Government Regulation – usually a formality – and it will pass into law.

This time it will be different.

This Regulation from Sir Keir Starmer's Government gives away more UK sovereignty, and one MP is leading the charge to stop him. The MP and noted barrister Jim Allister will shout "No!" when the Speaker makes his announcement. This highly unusual action will force a vote to be taken in the House of Commons on the highly sensitive topic of “Who governs Britain?”

In normal circumstances Regulations such as this, known as ‘negative Statutory Instruments’, tend to go through ‘on the nod’. If no-one objects they automatically become law. That will not be the case this time, however.

Today we can exclusively announce an unexpected twist in the reports our affiliate, Brexit Facts4EU have been filing on the Government’s plan to cause EU Regulations to be effected in England, Scotland and Wales, starting on Tuesday next week (01 Jul 2025).

A chance for the people to fight back

The campaign’s headline yesterday – “The first time since Brexit the EU has asserted legislative power over the entire UK” – came as a surprise to many people. In that report, we gave further details of the way in which Sir Keir’s Labour Government is set to give effect to EU regulations throughout the United Kingdom, as opposed to in Northern Ireland only, as at present.

We showed how – if Sir Keir Starmer’s government gets its way – a costly EU Regulation will start being enforced by the UK’s authorities onto the entire UK from next Tuesday. Our report explained that:

- This is a regulation made not by our Parliament, but by a foreign political body: the EU.
- Even more extraordinarily, it does not apply to the EU, but to a non-EU country – the United Kingdom.
- The Regulation was drafted by Brussels 2½ years after we left the EU.
- It imposes rules on our own internal trade: from within GB as well as between GB and NI.
- It is the first time since Brexit that the EU has exercised direct legislative power over the whole of the UK.

---

"This is our first opportunity to put a stake in the ground for sovereignty," commented Ben Philips, Vice-Chairman of campaign group Stand for Our Sovereignty.

"In the short time we have been formed, our fast-growing membership has been asking what they can do to help to turn the tide against the continual attacks on our sovereignty."

"Now people have their chance to make their voice heard."

---

Here is what you can do

In this 'Two-Tier' defence of our sovereignty, we are backing Jim Allister's bold move in the Commons with an appeal to our Members and the public at large to bombard MPs with emails, letters, calls, and messages to their social media accounts.

It's easy to contact your MP and tell him or her to vote against the Government and for sovereignty. Your voice will be amplified thousands of times by Members and supporters of the Stand for Our Sovereignty campaign, as well as thousands more members of the public who have decided "Enough is enough."

On the next page (link below) we will provide the essential information on how to do this effectively. Firstly we have a message for readers from the man who will shout “No!” and in so doing will put a stake in the ground for sovereignty, democracy, independence and freedom.

---

A personal message to you, from Jim Allister KC MP, Leader of the TUV

The proposal that next week Members of Parliament should vote for an arrangement that requires all parts of the UK to be ready to submit to ‘Not for EU’ labelling requirements, mandated by an EU law made for the UK three years after we had supposedly left, constitutes the most extraordinary validation of the fact that the biggest democratic vote in the history of the United Kingdom still has not been honoured.

The question is whether we are happy to sit back and be walked over by the EU and Remain establishment or whether we were serious about the restoration of our country and its sovereignty.

In this context I warmly welcome the advent of the Stand for Our Sovereignty Campaign and am delighted that they have decided to make this vote a moment of reckoning.

The truth is that no part of the UK should have to carry 'Not for EU' labels, because of an EU Regulation made in 2023, three years after we left the EU, to regulate the division of our country by a foreign power.

No self-respecting country with a future can afford to allow itself to be treated in this way.

We must be prepared to stand our ground, like the other countries of the world, and demand that the territorial integrity of our country is both recognised and respected by the outside world. This will be quite impossible for so long as we are governed by people who do not believe in our country, its territorial integrity, its sovereignty.

In this, our situation will not change unless and until the quiet majority of people who care about our country stand up for it with a quiet, dignified determination and resolve.

With this purpose very much in view I would urge people who care about the future of our country from right across the nation to seize the moment and contact their Members of Parliament to ask them to vote against Retail Marking Goods Regulations next week.'

– Jim Allister KC MP, Leader of the TUV

---

Click here for your 'Sovereignty Battle Pack' and make your voice heard!

We are calling on all those who stand for our sovereignty to tell their MPs how to vote. We want those MPs who have not studied this legislation to be fully aware of what it means and to vote against the Government and for UK sovereignty. We want them to know the strength of feeling in the country as a whole and that they will be doing the right thing by listening to the public.

Get your free 'Sovereignty Battle Pack' and Stand for Our Sovereignty!

---

Observations

This is SO important. We must put a stake in the ground. We really hope you will make a small effort today and make sure your MP knows what you think. Please tell him to vote against the The Marking of Retail Goods Regulations.

And please, please help us to carry on our vital work in defence of independence, sovereignty, democracy and freedom by donating today. Thank you.

Main image: Montage © Brexit Facts4EU.Org 2025 and © Stand for Our Sovereignty 2025