

Somerset drowning, in EU waters.

The current crisis on the Somerset Levels , is a personal tragedy for its residents, and an event which has brought this little known corner of England to the nation's attention, and simultaneously turned the spotlight on those who must accept some part of the blame.

It will surprise no one to learn that the bungling, overpaid occupants, of London centric government, are more than a minor part of the problem.

Their failure to observe what the EU is deciding in Brussels, and implementing in the UK, without 95% of our : Lib Lab Con M.E.P.s and M.P.s even noticing, is central to understanding the situation.

Lib Lab Con have, for forty years, been very reluctant to make themselves conspicuous in Brussels, or question what goes on there, for fear of drawing attention to the fact that all three were party to the events of 1972/73, when they turned a blind eye to Heath's treasonous activities, and ever since as a result, have totally failed to act in the best interests of the British electorate.

Today's crisis in the West Country is we learn, not entirely unconnected with our cripplingly expensive involvement with the EU and its flawed environmental policies, in this case, via a conference in Warsaw in 2003 , and Directive No. 2007/60/EC.

How could anyone expect Lib Lab Con to be aware of this, when they are so deeply engrossed in pretending that our EU membership is legal, and good value for money ? – – WHICH IT ISN'T.

Hence super quango : The Environment Agency, under pressure from : over borrowed – cash strapped Westminster, dutifully slashed their departmental spending with little regard for the catastrophic effect this would have on those who reside in Somerset, and pay their taxes .

Lord Smith predictably, has made a puerile attempt to throw the blame back onto the electorate by piously declaring that :

We must make difficult choices, and decide whether we protect town or country – we can't afford to do both !

We could of course if we stopped sending £ 50 million a day to unaudited Brussels.

The simple choice for the British electorate, is to cease to vote for Lib Lab Con in all future elections at every level, for to do otherwise, so is to vote for more of the same, something we can't afford and don't want.

A much used short phrase in recent times, has been : REGIME CHANGE, and it is usually applied to troubled nations far away, but no nation ever needed this to happen to them, more than we do at this time.

This recently appeared in the Alvechurch Bugle.
