

CIBUK - PRESS RELEASE

EMBARGO: Immediate release

EXCLUSIVE: “Yes, I do think the EU is a basket case,” says leading US commentator from Washington

A ‘no holds barred’ interview with very newsworthy statements.

CIBUK’s Chairman – who conducted the interview - is available today for comments on an exclusive basis.

CIBUK (<https://cibuk.org/>) – the longest-established organisation for freedom, independence and sovereignty in the UK – has just published a video interview with a senior figure from the Washington DC political elite. This is the first in a series of interviews with influential people from the UK and from around the globe, produced with our affiliated organisation Facts4EU.Org.

Dr Nile Gardiner is a well-known and well-respected figure in Washington politics. In the last six months he has hosted and interviewed Priti Patel, Lord Frost, Sir Iain Duncan Smith, Oliver Dowden, and Brandon Lewis. Nile works at the Heritage Foundation which has nearly two million followers from across the United States on social media.

In this video interview Nile doesn’t pull his punches. He talks about Brexit, the EU, Ukraine, Boris Johnson, Liz Truss, Emmanuel Macron, as well as giving anecdotes about his time working in the late Lady Thatcher’s private office.

About CIBUK: The Campaign for an Independent Britain (CIBUK) is a non-party political campaigning organisation of people from all walks of life. It is the UK's longest-running membership organisation for freedom, democracy and independence.

Founded in 1969, for over 50 years the CIBUK has made a significant contribution in campaigning on issues important to the majority of our population and in securing our exit from the European Union. Now it's time for the next chapter.
