

“No, the N.I. economy is NOT outperforming the UK Economy,” says CIBUK

PRESS RELEASE - IMMEDIATE

“The Northern Ireland Protocol has now become the subject of a campaign of economic disinformation,” according to a study by one of CIBUK’s affiliated organisations.

“There is a second deadline on Friday which is rushing up and current indications are that it will be missed. This will then further delay a full Brexit for the entire United Kingdom... Again,” says another affiliate in their report.

Now that Monday’s deadline has produced a new PM, and with so many minds turned to the “who’s in and who’s out” in Westminster, two new reports remind us all that another vital deadline looms on Friday at midnight.

These reports have had huge traction in the last 48 hours, despite the other news which has dominated, so I thought you and your readers might be interested?

Report No.1 : “Contrary to Remainer claims that the NI Protocol was ‘shielding’ the Northern Ireland economy from the ‘downsides’ of Brexit, the evidence largely points in the opposite direction. The N.I. Protocol is hindering not helping NI Economy.”

Read the full article here. (From our affiliated organisation Briefings for Britain.)

Report No.2 : “Power-sharing in Northern Ireland must resume by Friday, with a working Stormont administration, or the Government is obliged by law to dissolve the N.I. Assembly and call a new election in Northern Ireland.” Read the full article here. (From our affiliated organisation Facts4EU.Org.)

CIBUK (<https://cibuk.org/>) – the oldest organisation for independence, freedom and democracy in the UK.