

Since Brexit, the EU has begun 16 legal proceedings against the UK. How?

PRESS RELEASE - IMMEDIATE

Our special report reveals how parts of Brexit Britain are STILL under EU law

We are still not free.

Nearly two years after formally leaving the European Union, the United Kingdom remains in the dock, along with all 27 EU member states, for breaking its rules.

The EU Commission has launched 16 new legal cases against the UK which form part of the 27 active 'infringement cases' which the EU Commission is pursuing against the United Kingdom.

In a shocking exclusive, Campaign for an Independent Britain - CIBUK (<https://cibuk.org/>) – the oldest-established organisation for independence, freedom and democracy in the UK – and its affiliate Facts4EU.Org – exposes the legal vendetta which lies behind the EU's latest actions against the United Kingdom.

The 10 policy areas where the EU has launched proceedings against the UK since it left

- Mobility and Transport
- Eurostat
- Taxation and Customs Union
- Health and Food Safety
- Home Affairs
- Secretariat General
- Justice, Fundamental Rights and Citizenship
- Financial Stability, Financial Services and Capital Markets Union
- Budget
- Legal Service

Northern Ireland

- The most egregious example of EU intransigence applies to the province of Northern Ireland which remains subject to any new laws and regulations the EU decides to impose.
 - These are laws over which these British citizens have no say. These citizens of part of the UK can't vote out the foreign body which is imposing these laws. Their judiciary has no say – they must obey the diktats of a foreign power.
-

Commenting, CIBUK's Communications Director Ben Philips said:

"Thanks to the iniquities of the Northern Ireland Protocol, a sovereign part of the United Kingdom remains hostage to the arbitrary jurisdiction of the EU. It is quite clear to every objective and impartial observer that the measures being demanded by the EU in relation to Northern Ireland are wholly unreasonable and would never be countenanced in dealings between two sovereign states. This is vassalage pure and simple."

The full report can be read here.

Please follow us on social media:

For editors and journalists:

Link to the article

We are available for further comments if required – see contact details below.

Best regards,
Ben Philips
Comms Director, CIBUK (<https://cibuk.org/>)
+44 7947 751982
ben.philips@cibuk.org