Commenting for CIBUK, Communications Editor Ben Philips said:

"These figures, especially UK GDP November figures reveal a level of economic resilience which is both remarkable and reassuring given the headwinds which have been battering both the UK and the global economy.

It also serves to highlight how misguided and misjudged the Remainer-Rejoiner establishment have been in their endless and baseless litany of anti-Brexit propaganda.

No one expected our exit from the European Union to be an easy ride, but the prize was political freedom, and the fact that the UK economy can boast both economic growth and booming markets in such testing times is cause for optimism in the months and years ahead."
